

Ketosene® - Red

HUMAN JET FUEL

A proprietary formula that combines the power of PalmFreeMCT™ oil & Astaxanthin for performance at a higher level.

Boosting energy metabolism & ATP production

Ketosene is developed to serve the needs of those that want to perform at a higher level. Those that may already be familiar with the benefits of a ketogenic lifestyle, and are ready for more. For more energy and better performance at work, when working out or in life in general!

Ketosene provides the body with MCTs to effectively create ketone bodies. These ketone bodies function as an improved fuel source for mitochondria in comparison to carbohydrates. Synergistically, the Astaxanthin boosts the ATP production by enhancing the electron transport chain - your ENGINE - and also reduces oxidative stress.

The ingredients in Ketosene provide benefits individually, as well as synergistically. Due to the nature of the ingredients, it takes roughly 4-6 weeks before the synergistic benefits can be noticed

Taking Ketosene is like upgrading the body's fuel & engine at the same time!
